NO RELIEF FROM HEAT BLAST EXPECTED BEFORE THURSDAY

Scorching Sun Beaming Down Across State

By The Associated Press

A scorching sun beamed down on Pennsylvania today, sending the mercury soaring toward the 90 mark for the seventh straight day.

With the weatherman at long last willing to admit Pennsylvania was in the throes of a genuine heat wave, the state's sweating population had news for him—they could have identified the weather situation a week ago.

The weather picture had its tragic aspects as well as its uncomfortable ones. Three youths drowned in southeastern Pennsylvania, seeking relief from the searing heat.

The weatherman promised no relief from the blast of hot air that engulfed the state until at least Thursday.

Some office workers—those without benefit of air conditioners—were excused from work early yesterday but the employees of city offices in Philadelphia weren't that lucky. Foster E. Rorer, city personnel director, produced a formula for the situation. Only when the temperature and humidity reach a total of 145 are the city workers excused to go home early, he said. That figure was not reached before the end of the regular work day yesterday.

Most of the nation's eastern half awoke to another torrid day (Turn to Page Six)

BEAVER CO. DROWNING

Beaver Falls (P)—A Beaver County youth drowned in Racon Creek near Sandy Beach last night on the eve of his 20th birthday. The victim was James Lyle Johnston of Monaca Rd 5. Deputy Coroner R. W. ### Armstrong Co. Court Permits Photographers

Kittanning (P)—A news photographer snapped pictures in the courtroom today as the murder trial of a 29-year-old Pittsburgh man opened in Armstrong County Criminal Court.

The taking of pictures at the trial of Robert T. Davis was authorized by Judge J. Frank Graff with the stipulation that photographers would not interfere with the proceedings.

Edward T. Adams of the New Kensington Dispatch was selected to represent all newspapers in a picture pool arrangement.

Davis is accused of bludgeoning to death Mrs. Emily Foster a 25-year-old expectant mother from Leechburg. She was found beaten to death outside her garage last Jan. 29.

Davis entered the courtroom dressed in a blue-serve suit, a white shirt, a dark blue necktie with white abstract figures, and black shoes. He was handcuffed to sheriff deputies.

Davis chewed hard on a wad of gum, the only sign of nervous tension. Asked by Clerk of Courts Herbert Gates how he wished to plead, Davis replied:

"I plead not guilty."

Davis then took his seat at a long table in front of the judge's

Humphrey Declares Ike Fiscal Policy Is Causing Prosperity

Washington (P)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey today credited the administration's fiscal policies with causing unparalleled prosperity. But he said prosperity brings problems.

"I acknowledge imperfections in our accomplishments," Humphrey told the Senate Finance Committee, "but I entertain no doubt as to the propriety of our goals or the wisdom of our policies."

The secretary, whose "tight money" policies have drawn considerable congressional fire, said it is "nonsense" to allege that "higher interest rates benefit only the bankers."

"Bankers are brokers of money," he declared in an 11,000-word statement prepared for the opening session of a board committee study of the nation's financial condition. "When they receive more, they pay more."

Higher interest rates paid by banks to their depositors encourage savings, he said, and those savings are converted to increased capital investment which means more jobs.

Humphrey, whose resignation as Treasury secretary is expected to become effective in mid-July, told the committee the Eisenhower administration has a record of "a prospering America with new high levels of employment, rising income, and increasing purchasing power."

Excellent Progress Reported At Busy Session of the Mid-Summer Mardi Gras Committee

An enthusiastic meeting of the Mardi Gras committee was held last night, with more plans for the biggest week of the year under consideration.

Among items discussed were the parade, firemen's water battle, the routin' tootin' Rodeo, and the Queen contest.

It has been said that never in the history of a Jaycee-sponsored parade have so many units been entered, and it is thought that marching in the cool of the evening, six p. m. on July 6th, appeals to all. Participating in the gigantic spectacle will be such outstanding units as the Kane Kaydettes, Indian Bonnettes from Oil City, Cochran's Majorettes from Port Clinton, O., Lakewood Cardinals, Jamestown Vikings, and Warren's own High School Band. Jaycees are keeping secret for a time about a BIG announcement concerning a marching team that has never appeared here.

The firemen's battle promises to be the wettest this area has ever seen. Companies from all over the county will stage contests such as a ladder race, tug of war, pushing a barrel with a fire hose, and as a sizzling climax will burn to the ground a house especially erected for the event, with volunteers in charge of extinguishing.

Reports on the rodeo sales are encouraging, according to Chairman Carl Mazzu, and tickets are still available at Warren Drug Store for performances on July 4, 5 and 6.

Concerning the queen contest, it was announced that posters go out to the merchants this week, for balloting which will begin next Monday. Six lovely finalists have been chosen, and the public will have a small part in selecting her royal highness to reign over the Mardi Gras festivities.

Japan's Prime Minister Leaving for Washington

San Francisco (P)—Japan's Prime Minister Kishi, whose reputation at golf is that of a man with a good approach shot, planned a practice round today before leaving tonight for Washington aboard President Eisenhower's personal plane to meet America's leader of the golf course and across the conference table.

Ahead of his arrival in the nation's capital, word came through responsible U. S. officials there that Kishi's diplomatic approach to postwar problems may well result in a highly successful mission. These sources pointed to Kishi's basic friendliness toward the United States and to the growing strength of his leadership.

Kishi himself emphasized that friendliness both at the international airport Monday on his arrival by plane and later at a hotel reception sponsored by three organizations dedicated to cementing friendships with Japan.

Leader Scores Senate Action On Radar Bill

Harrisburg (P)—Gov. Leader estimated today that Senate Republican refusal to approve radar legislation for speed law enforcement "sentenced hundreds of citizens to death."

In a blistering attack on the Senate decision to authorize a Joint State Government Commission study of the problem, the governor described Chairman George N. Wade of the Senate Highways Committee as "a cold-blooded head-in-the-sand legislator."

"If Pennsylvania must endure this type of cold-blooded, head-in-the-sand legislator then God help us all," Leader said.

Leader promised that if Wade "persists in blocking this bill" he will "personally mail" to the Cumberland County senator a copy of the report of every traffic death in Pennsylvania during the remainder of his term as governor.

The governor has strongly supported the radar legislation as part of his highways safety program.

Psychiatrists Studying Boy Who Shot Up Town

Canonsburg (P)—Psychiatrists will try to learn what caused a 10-year-old boy to frighten a small mining community by taking pot shots at everything that moved.

State police still don't know where Joey got two pistols and a large supply of ammunition with which he held people at bay. No one was wounded.

NEW CALCULATIONS ON THE SALES TAX REVENUE ENDS DEMS' CHANCE FOR VICTORY

Harrisburg (P)—Compromise efforts on the $1,120,000,000 general appropriations bill bogged down today on the issue of just how much revenue the sales tax will produce in the next two years.

Republicans, who have insisted the 3 per cent levy would yield 500 million dollars, now have pared that figure to 480 millions.

The new calculation just about ended Democratic chances for reducing GOP-inspired budget cuts to 70 million dollars. The cuts now run about 88 millions.

The surprise GOP position on sales tax estimates was disclosed after a joint House-Senate conference committee session last night. Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, described it as "an outrage."

Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), asked if the new 480 million dollar sales tax estimate was inconsistent with his previous position, parried the question and said:

"My fellow Republican conferees urged the 480-million-dollar figure on me and I believe they were justified on the basis of our information on sales tax collections."

The six-member committee—dominated by Republicans 4-to-2—resumes sessions today in an attempt to salvage the harmony on which the first meeting was concluded Sunday night.

On the outcome of the session hangs the exact date for final adjournment of the 1957 Legislature.

Sen. Ronald B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, said he was pointing for the winnow tomorrow but conceded the session could continue into Thursday. The Senate met until 1:30 a. m. today.

Some lawmakers, disappointed by the new turn of events, talked in their cloakrooms about the session going into next week or even next month.

Dent said he had been hopeful of converting the GOP to the Democratic viewpoint that 18 millions can be restored to the budget since revenues in the past two years ran about that much higher than estimates.

Revenue Secretary Gerald A. Gloeson was expected to be called in to make revenue estimates. Under the law, his figures are official and final.

Despite GOP majorities in both branches, Democrats are counting as their ace in the hole the fact that 98 million dollars in special appropriations on the Senate agenda need a two-thirds majority.

The bulk of these are to local institutions and schools which both sides agree must be paid.

Other legislative developments: General State Authority—The House State Government Committee slashed 60 million dollars from a plan to increase the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority by 100 million dollars.

Radar—Chairman George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) of the Senate Highways Committee said legislation to authorize the use of radar in speeding arrests was dead for this session.

Struthers Wells Strike Situation Unchanged

Both Struthers-Wells and Local 1328, IAM, negotiating officials were reported to have given in somewhat in bargaining sessions yesterday which lasted until 8 p. m. The 380 striking employees will meet to accept or reject the latest company proposals at 1:30 p. m. today in St. Joseph's Hall. It was anticipated that the four-day-old strike which started at midnight Friday would not be a long, drawn out affair similar to the one which shut down Struthers for three months in 1952.

Voting For Mardi Gras Queen To Get Under Way on June 24

Next Monday, June 24 area shoppers will have opportunity to vote for their choice for the Jaycee Mid-Summer Mardi-Gras Queen from among the six finalists. The balloting will take place in many local retail stores and will continue for one week under the sponsorship of the Retailers Committee of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce. This popularity vote will count only as 10% of the final judging.

Participating stores will display posters with photographs of the six girls. Customers will mark the ballot by checking a number corresponding to the number on the picture of the girl of their choice and deposit in a box. Participating stores can be identified next week by the Mardi Gras banners in the windows.

Local retail members of the Chamber of Commerce will be visited later this week by a messenger from the Chamber office who will have the promotional material. Merchants who wish to participate may purchase the materials consisting of window banners, posters and ballots from the messenger for a nominal sum. There is no assessment for taking part in the ballot promotion.

The six finalists chosen last week whose pictures will soon adorn dozens of local business establishments are Louise Culbertson, Andrea Kirk, Sally Swanson, Sandra Winner, Barbara Timm, and Sallie Haley.

All residents are urged to cast their ballot for one of these six girls during next week's Jaycee Mid-Summer Mardi Gras in Warren's business establishments.

Southern Bloc Loses Battle On Civil Rights

Washington, (P)—The House today passed President Eisenhower's civil rights bill.

The vote was 286-126.

Just before final passage, the House defeated, 251-153, the Southern bloc's fourth and final attempt to drive a jury trial amendment into the measure. The vote insured passage of the bill essentially in the form Eisenhower recommended and the Republican, Northern and Western Democrats backing such legislation agreed on.

Voting for the jury trial amendment were 45 Republicans and 113 Democrats. Against it were 139 Republicans and 112 Democrats.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where a bipartisan coalition is trying to rush it on to the calendar for action, thus depriving Southern senators of one of their opportunities to filibuster.

The bill would authorize the U. S. attorney general to take into federal court the cases of persons whose voting or other civil rights were violated or threatened.

Without first going to state courts, the attorney general could seek a federal injunction against such violations. If it were granted, the court then could punish for contempt anyone who violated the injunction, but proponents of the bill have argued that the granting of the injunction itself would often eliminate the difficulties.

Three Rescued by Helicopter Above Niagara Cataract

Three men were rescued by helicopter and private boat around midnight last night after a harrowing two hours in the Niagara River a mile above the cataract.

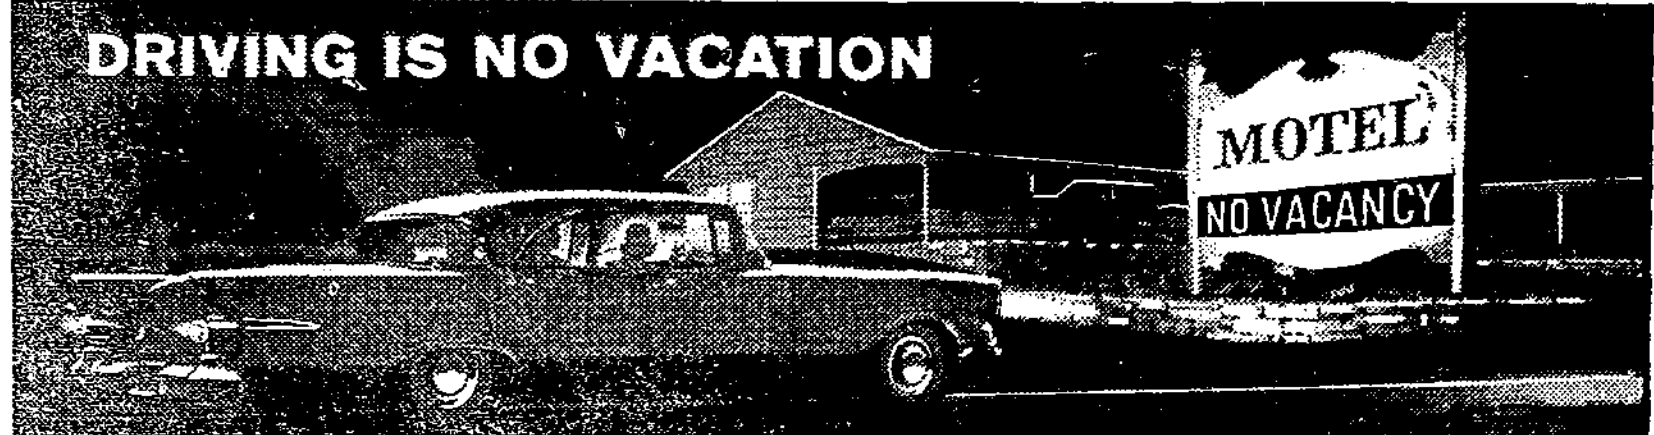

Two of the men were clinging to a rock; the third was in a 16-foot outboard motorboat.

Authorities said Dennis Miller, 36, and Thomas Sterling, 50, both of Niagara Falls, Ont., were cruising in the motorboat when the engine failed.

Miller fell overboard as the two were trying to fix it, they said, but was able to swim to a rock about 150 yards offshore.

The third man, Robert Bryan of this city, said he heard Miller's cries from the shore. Bryan, an employee of the Carborundum Co. nearby, swam to Miller's rock while other workers called police.

Fight Pledged On Kinzua Dam By N.Y. Congressmen

Washington (P)—Rep. Harold J. Ostertag (R-N.Y.) says he will carry his fight to the floor of the House against a million-dollar appropriation to begin construction of an Allegheny River dam near the Pennsylvania-New York line.

Ostertag of Attica, declared last week that the objections of the Seneca Indians were a factor in his opposition to the 100-million-dollar dam proposed for the area of Kinzua, Pa.

The New Yorker spoke after the House Appropriations Committee voted to include the money in the omnibus rivers and harbors bill appropriation, which probably will come up for House action next Tuesday.

Ostertag and another New York State Republican, John Taber of Auburn, voted against the dam money at a closed meeting of the committee.

(Taber also told newsmen he will fight the Kinzua Dam appropriation on the House floor.)

The dam would have a reservoir that would extend across the New York State line near Salamanca. Flooding parts of the Seneca reservation. The Indians maintain that doing so would be a violation of a 1794 treaty.

Ostertag said that in addition to the Indians' objections, he was moved by a belief that the planned dimensions of the dam were too large for the intended purposes. He said a smaller dam or a group of smaller ones might do the job as well.

Army engineers and other proponents maintain the dam is needed to prevent flooding in the Pittsburgh area. Engineers say a series of small dams would cost more and be less effective.

A U. S. district court at Buffalo has held that the government has the right to the land in the Indian reservation so long as just compensation is paid under the principle of eminent domain.

Bayonets made their first appearance in Bayonne, France.

Jaycee Mardi Gras Notes!

The lid's kicked off! The six are chosen! The JAYCEE MID-SUMMER MARDI GRAS is officially under way.

Friday was one of those nights that couldn't have been better. Lovely night! Lovely girls! And six superb choices to grace the JAYCEE celebration this year. Mr. MG had the final say-so on the six beauties, and never has he spent a more trying evening. Each girl was a queen in her own right, and it was only after much concentration on the queenly attributes that he came up with Louise, Sallie, Andrea, Sally, Barbara, and Sandra.

Balloting for the new queen will commence next Monday and so, if you have a choice, be sure to give her your vote. Any one of the six will be a real queen.

While this show of beauty goes on, behind the scenes preparations are feverish for the final week. Last night committee chairman met at the Y to go over more plans, and Chairmen Cook and Clinger promised announcements of new and greater attractions will be forthcoming.

Wednesday at 8 the whole membership will meet at the Y and the program will be laid out in detail. Posters are beginning to appear all over the county announcing the appearance of the Black Diamond Rodeo. If you've never seen one, don't miss this one. If you have seen it before, Mr. MG doesn't need to remind you that it's one of the best in the country. Three big nights and matinees, but tickets go fast, so get yours at the Warren Drug Store.

State Scientists Slate a Survey Of The Kinzua Valley

Albany — The Allegheny River Valley in Cattaraugus County, which the War Department Corps of Engineers is planning to flood as a result of building Kinzua Dam to create a huge reservoir, is to be surveyed this summer by New York State scientists, temporary experts from universities and graduate students.

The purpose, according to Dr. William N. Fenton, Assistant Commissioner for the New York State Museum and Science Service in the State Education Department, who announced the program today, is to discover what changes in the relationships among plants, animals, the geology and the human occupants of the region may result from the proposed flooding.

Dr. Fenton has asked the co-operation of the Seneca Nation of Indians who have for generations owned the 8,000 acres to be affected by the project and has explained to Cornelius Seneca, president of the Seneca Nation, that the State Museum and Science Service recognizes its obligation to the Indian group and other residents to answer questions of fact as to what the Allegheny Valley contains and how it is changing, and to publish the findings. The Senecas' title to the region is backed by a treaty with the United States signed at Canandaigua on Nov. 11, 1794, described as the oldest Federal treaty with the Indians.

The project envisions a high dam at Kinzua, 12 miles south of the New York-Pennsylvania line which will create a reservoir extending 30 miles upstream in slack season to the interstate line and in flood season covering the Cold-spring flats and in peak years extending to the Salamanca city limits.

The State Museum will have summer quarters for the first time in 20 years in the Quaker Run area of Allegheny State Park in cabins rented by the Allegheny State Park Commission.

Prisoner Serving Life Says Brother Committed Murder

Erie (P)—A prisoner serving a life term in Western State Penitentiary testified Monday that his older brother "actually committed the murder" for which he was convicted and sentenced.

Keith Magee said his brother, LeRoy, killed 73-year-old George Harrington in November, 1953, put the body in the back of Harrington's auto and set the vehicle afire.

Harrington was a retired engineer from Conneaut, Ohio.

LeRoy Magee was arrested early this year after Keith gave police a statement when they questioned him at the Pittsburgh penitentiary.

The hearing, conducted by Judge Burton Laub was held to determine if there is sufficient evidence to hold LeRoy for grand jury action. Judge Laub, after hearing evidence, ruled LeRoy should be held.

Harrington was found slain in the trunk of his car near Erie. A pathologist testified today that Harrington apparently was alive when he was put in the trunk and the car set afire.

LeRoy is being held without bond in Erie County jail.

Delightful One-Room School House On Plank Road in Watson Twp., Is Last Bit of the Vanishing Americana

FLAG SALUTE—Each morning when weather permits, the 12 Plank Road School children stand at strict attention outside the white and green trimmed one-room school building for flag salute. The building is ideally situated atop Cobham Hill and serves Watson Township. The half-acre grounds are the most pleasant of any school in this area. To reach the building turn left on the Sandstone Springs Road beyond Wildwood on Route 62.

TEACHERS-EYE VIEW—This is a teachers-eye view of the last one-room school house in Warren County. Mrs. James Marshall stands in the background over her flock like the good shepherd she is. Two of her "Kiddies" move onto Beaty in the fall and two more come of school age in Watson Township.

The delightful Plank Road school in Watson Township atop Cobham Hill has become that last bit of vanishing Americana in Warren County to be known as a one-room school. It has a dozen pupils and a top-rated instructor, Mrs. James Marshall.

The only other one-room, one-teacher school in Warren County situated on Davy Hill will transfer its 16 students to Tidoute in the fall for better graduation. The teacher there, Miss Ellen Sealander, will continue with the Tidoute venture. Only other small schools left in Warren County during a time of mass education is the 2-room building at Scandia where Mrs. Alice Wall instructs about 40 pupils and the building at Bear Lake where Mrs. Ester Molton and a parttime teacher instructs about 50 students in a 2-room building.

A uniquely personal blend of human instruction with the material touch insures continuation of Plank Road School (for the time being, at least) as county officials term Mrs. Marshall's students just about the best trained and taught in any elementary school in the area. From the time the nine boys and three girls jump off Beecherhaw's school bus at 9:30 a. m. to the time they are picked up again at 4 p. m., the dozen pupils enjoy a mixture of education possible only in a small, rural school. From the windows children see each day 10 to 15 deer browsing in a nearby pasture. Changing seasons in the rustic location provide first-hand experience of nature and the zealous students have helped improve on the natural setting.

PRIVATE TUTOR—Mrs. Marshall, with only 12 pupils in grade 1 through 6, has time to act almost as a private tutor. Above she helps Patricia Farmer with a knotty problem in geography. Keeping the "kiddies" and teacher company is Mrs. Marshall's dog "Zipper" who hasn't missed class in about five years. He responds to fire drills as fast as the children.

by working for half the funds to provide an outdoor gym set. The kids also like their indoor washroom. Most of all they like Mrs. Marshall. This breed of vanishing Americana came to work six years ago for "just a year" during the teacher shortage. She has remained ever since until the school and its children provide the main interest of her life. It is Mrs. Marshall who piles her "kiddies" into the jeep and takes them on educational trips across the county. They have visited the fish hatchery, fire tower,

Court House in Warren and various shops, among other spots. Also, it is Mrs. Marshall who arranges parties for the group at her house. On Inauguration Day the "kiddies" sat in her living room at home and watched the inaugural proceedings on the television set. At school, every birthday arrives with a party and special Easter, Christmas and Halloween events are featured. Much of this extra time comes from the generous amount of personal attention which can be allotted each student with his or her studies. With grades one to six represented, the cross currents of subjects have all the students learning subjects ahead of his class and Mrs. Marshall is always available for special help where needed. The children under Mrs. Marshall's guidance have also taken a special interest in shut-ins of that area and holidays find remembrances delivered to each one.

The Watson Township PTA appreciates the special efforts of Mrs. Marshall and is active in supporting the school and her policies. Once a week during the winter the PTA supplies a hot meal which is cooked and cleaned up by the "kiddies". During warm weather ice cream is served.

Mrs. Marshall works closely with the Warren Area School Jointure and when her two sixth graders go to Beaty Junior High School in the fall they will find the subjects dovetailing nicely. Set to replace them are two other youngsters attaining school age in the township.

Other rudiments of education are observed at the out-of-way building. Teacher is a great believer in cleanliness and the "kiddies" stand inspection with a chart each morning. Kleenex is also provided and as Mrs. Marshall says: "We have no nose-pickers in Plank Road." Kids also run regular fire and air alert drills when teacher (lacking a nearby bell) trills the piano.

The students respond beautifully to the maternal brand of instruction and there is no disciplinary problem. When teacher's back is turned the students "police" themselves.

And for all the affection lavished by Mrs. Marshall upon her brood, it is returned in kind. When the "kiddies" were asked if there was anything else important the inquiring reporter should know they said "Yes! Mrs. Marshall's on a diet and has lost 25 pounds."

And in answer to what they liked best about Plank Road School the shout was immediate and loud: "Mrs. Marshall!"

Incidentally, the devoted kids are: Grade 1, Jay Jetter; Grade 2, Jan Mickelson, Jack Taft; Grade 3, Patricia Farmer, Rose Mary Miller, Wayne Nelson; Grade 5, Linda Moyer, Jerry Kostkas, Peter Mickelson, Robert Miller; Grade 6, David Cross and Thomas Westfall.

When Your Child Goes To Camp---

When your child sets off for camp this summer, he won't just be headed for a casual vacation.

He'll be sailing into one of the greatest, most important adventures of his entire life. And, according to Jeff Riedel of the Warren YMCA, it's up to parents to guarantee the success of this adventure.

"Going to camp is a big event in the life of our kids," Mr. Riedel said, "even though they might act blasé or off hand about it."

"Boys and girls who strike off to camp have to break away from their home, parents, and old friends. And it's not always easy to leave behind everything that's secure and comfortable. This is all the more true if it's the first time a youngster has been away from home."

"That's why we should work with our children now," he continued, "before they go to camp. To a large extent our grown-up attitudes will determine just how much, or how little, they'll benefit from their summer camp adventure. As the song goes, we parents 'gotta accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative.'"

Mr. Riedel offered parents of camp-bound children several specific suggestions about how to go about accentuating the positive. He emphasized that these basic pointers apply equally well to any camp any youngster attends whether or not it's sponsored by the YMCA.

On the first day of camp try not to stay too long. If you can leave just as your youngster is beginning some activity, such as dinner or swimming, the break will be a lot easier for you.

Find out ahead of time just what the camp's policies are about notifying parents in case of illness. Be sure to leave an address where you can be reached in an emergency.

Obey camp regulations in sending food to your youngster. It's better to send fruits than sweets. And if you mail food direct to the counselor, he'll distribute it at the proper time and encourage the practice of sharing with others. Don't supply your young camper with a batch of comic books that will take time away from other things.

Feel free to correspond with your child's counselor or the camp director. At the end of the season you might also like to request a report on your boy's progress and adjustment.

If you feel your camper might have trouble with homesickness, put off visiting him at camp until he's had a chance to overcome it.

It's best never to remove your child from camp until you've first had a talk with the director. Keep in mind that a homesick camper will often exaggerate or misrepresent the actual situation.

Learn how to prevent homesickness by writing cheerful, optimistic letters, and have confidence that the camp management will do a conscientious job of building up self-assurance in your youngsters and thus help you train them for greater independence.

"Eligibility To Vote" on Wheat Quotas Explained

Just which farmers are eligible to cast ballots in the June 20th wheat marketing quota referendum was explained today by N. E. Dodd, chairman of the Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Farmers who will be eligible to vote in the wheat quota referendum on June 20th, according to the Chairman, are those farmers who will share in the 1958 wheat crop from a farm on which the wheat acreage to be harvested, plus any acreage to be placed in the Acreage Reserve will be more than 15 acres. Such farmers must be entitled to share in the proceeds of such wheat crop as owner-operator, cash tenant, standing rent or fixed rent tenant, landlord of a share tenant, share tenant, or sharecropper. A landlord of standing rent, cash rent, or fixed rent is not eligible to vote in the wheat referendum.

"A husband and wife are both entitled to vote in the referendum if the farm deed is recorded in both names", Chairman Dodd declared.

HELP CURB THE CRIPPLER

With that plea, Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority urges that every individual in the community will contribute generously to the Multiple Sclerosis Tag Days to be held in Warren on Friday and Saturday of this week. Mrs. Marie Wade is serving as chairman for this very worth-while sorority-sponsored project.

Multiple sclerosis, or MS, is one of the most common organic diseases of the nervous system. More than 500,000 Americans suffer from MS, which strikes most often young adults between the ages of 20 and 40. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society was founded in 1946 to encourage and finance scientific research in MS. Through its chapters and branches, and the MS Hope Chest, it also helps establish and maintain MS clinics and gives direct aid to patients. Last year, an MS Clinic was established in Erie through the efforts of a gigantic "teletthon" on Erie TV Station WICU, when $80,000 was realized for the new unit. This clinic serves the Warren area, and at present, there are at least eight known cases in this section.

Finding the answers to this mysterious disease, as was the case with polio, takes continued and expanded research and funds, and it is only through the tireless giving of the American people that such diseases can be combatted. Those desiring to send contributions to this worthy cause may mail them to Beta Sigma Phi president, Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, 10 Dittmars street, North Warren, Pa.

BEST OF LUCK, BARBERSHOPPERS!

Carrying the best wishes for a safe pleasant and rewarding trip fifty members of the Warren Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, Inc., leave flower Market street, Times Square, about 6.15 o'clock this evening on the first leg of their important bus-airplane trip to Los Angeles, Calif., and competition in the International contest to be held there this weekend.

If practice, preparation and determination are determining factors in the ultimate decision of the men who will judge the contest at the International harmony roundup the Warren delegation may be expected to return with something better than the consolation prize. They have labored long and faithfully to prepare themselves to make the best showing possible. Only those closest to the harmonizers, which include a large group of loyal supporters along with wives and families of the members, realize just how much time and effort has been put in by the Chapter in preparation for the contest.

We join with a host of others in wishing them God-speed, good luck and safe return.

WELL DONE, MAYFLOWER II

Probably no one will be so unkind as to accuse the Mayflower II of fudging because it accepted a Coast Guard tow line a few miles out of Provincetown harbor on its historic journey from Plymouth, England, to Plymouth, Mass.

The little craft, a perfect replica of the original Mayflower which brought the Pilgrims to Plymouth Rock in 1620, had been bouncing on the deep Atlantic for 53 days.

Mayflower II substantially completed its ocean passage against all manner of hazards, most of them minor but nonetheless annoying. Winds were often capricious and seas usually choppy. But the crew under Capt. Alan Villiers stuck at it and brought the tiny vessel to a landfall off the Massachusetts coast.

All Americans, remembering the place this ship holds in their heritage, welcome the Mayflower II with full praise for an enterprising job well done.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Behold, your house is left unto you desolate; and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.—Luke 13:35

Truly at the day of judgment we shall not be examined as to what we have read, but as to what we have done; not as to how well we have spoken, but as to how religiously we have lived.—

Here and There

Plans for the Fourth of July celebration in Warren fifty years ago, are outlined in the following article which appeared on the first page of the June 19, 1907, The Evening Mirror.

The Warren Business Men's Association held an enthusiastic meeting in their rooms in the Warren National Bank building Tuesday evening to listen to the reports of the several committees appointed to arrange for the celebration of the Fourth of July in this city. There was a large attendance and the reports given were of a highly encouraging and satisfactory nature, and showed conclusively that Warren will have a celebration this year that will excel anything ever given in this city or in any of the towns in this section of the state. The reports showed that the committees would have at least $2,500 to do business with and that the attractions secured are some of the very best to be had. There will be six big bands in addition to the Match Carnival Company band, the musicians numbering in all about 150 men so it can be seen that there will certainly be music in the air. Two balloon ascensions with parachute drops will be one of the big features of the celebration. Negotiations are in progress for securing a tight rope walker from Toronto who will walk on a wire cable over the river, not only in daylight but at night while the fireworks are being set off. While the contract with the man has not been signed it can almost be stated with certainty that he will be here and an attraction of an unusually startling nature will be afforded the thousands of visitors, who will be in the city on the Fourth. The Match Carnival Company is not one of the least of the many amusements, which will be here that week. This company carries twelve big shows, all of them of a highly interesting and entertaining nature. The big parade which is to take place in the afternoon, starting probably at about 1:30, will be one of the most gigantic affairs ever attempted in Warren. The fire department, the several bands, the various societies and organizations, Company I, the G. A. R., the fantastic divisions, the automobile sections and many other divisions, plans for which are industriously going forward, will make it well worth coming miles to see. Field sports and games, together with prizes for many of the events, has not been lost sight of. The list of these events is a long one. Attention has also been given to the comfort of the visitors who will be here. The city council has granted the use of the City Hall to the committees for the benefit of the public. The second floor of the City Hall will be given over to the ladies and will be in charge of two ladies. Here a rest and refreshment place can be had, parcels and other articles checked without charge, water and towels be used without any charge and information be had from the police and attentive persons who will be in charge. The lower floor of the building will be given over to the men, and similar facilities will be available there. On the streets water barrels with ice water will be placed in convenient centers, and in fact, anything and everything pertaining to the comfort of the visitors will be attended to. Two ball games between the Struthers Wells Co. nine and the Pullmans of Buffalo, have been arranged for, and many other sports and amusements will be engaged to furnish enjoyment for the crowds. In the evening one of the most elaborate and beautiful displays of fireworks will be given of the South Side river front. It is expected that arrangements will be made for special trains on both the D. A. V. & P. and Pennsylvania railroads, while the trolley companies will have extra cars in commission to handle the crowds. The contractors began work this morning on the construction of the three big arches, which are to span Penna. avenue and Second street, in front of the Warren Savings Bank building. A speaker's platform, reminds the writer that the committee has secured the services of the Rev. W. E. Brinkman, pastor of the First Lutheran church, of Warren to make an address on the forenoon of the Fourth. Altogether, the Fourth in Warren, as it has been planned and outlined by the several committees promises to be a Twentieth Century affair and a regular hummer. Let the Eagle scream.

Dulles Uses Press Conference For Polite Puncturing

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One of the most useful functions of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' press conferences is to deflate screwball foreign policy trial balloons launched by other experts.

The secretary has developed a nice technique for handling these situations. He's diplomatic and polite.

Thus when a reporter asked about California Sen. William Knowland's latest flash to get the Russians out of Hungary in exchange for a North Atlantic Treaty Organization pull-out from Norway, Dulles didn't say it was a darn fool idea.

He began with the flattery due a Republican leader. He buttered Knowland all over.

"I share Senator Knowland's feeling that we should make every effort to get Soviet troops out of Hungary," Dulles said. "We should test the sincerity of what Khrushchev said."

DULLES NEXT went into a few paragraphs of background about the mutual security arrangements which the United States has made with 45 other civilized nations.

Then he let Knowland have it.

"It is not proper that any one of these nations should be asked to withdraw from these arrangements," said Dulles. "It is not appropriate that any nation should be asked to withdraw."

Finis one beautiful theory. Later the senator issued a statement that his views had been misinterpreted.

Similarly, Secretary Dulles put in proper perspective Texas Sen. Lyndon Johnson's widely heralded New York speech.

In it, the Democratic majority leader had proposed what was acclaimed as a brand-new idea for exchange of radio and television time with the Russians.

DULLES WAS ASKED at his press conference what he thought about that. He commented that back in October 1955, at the Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting in Geneva, the idea for a monthly half-hour radio exchange time had been offered to the Russians. They turned it down with Molotov's comment that the Russians didn't want any such "social scam." But the United States is still pressing for it, at every opportunity, says Dulles.

That punctured the Johnson balloon pretty effectively, but the secretary let it down gently with more butter.

He was glad to see the Johnson endorsement and adoption of this proposal, the secretary said. It was a strong expression on the effectiveness of our bipartisan foreign policy.

In recent weeks, Dulles has had to spend much of his press conference time trying to keep disarmament negotiations on track.

INSPIRED LARGELY by the ambition and optimism of ex-Gov. Harold Stassen, American delegate to the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee, there has been a series of fantastic predictions on what they were to accomplish.

In allowing exaggerated hopes to be built up for acceptance of American disarmament proposals, it is now being freely mentioned that Governor Stassen may have performed his greatest disservice yet to the Eisenhower administration.

There has been no official reprimand of Governor Stassen. But his dreams of disarmament are pretty well demolished by the last Dulles press conference statements.

"We are not disposed to present as a U.S. program anything that involves our European allies without their unanimous approval," says Dulles. "We can't discard the views of our allies just to make speed in a bilateral deal with the Soviet."

Deaf Man Perfects Cordless Hearing Aid

Worn Entirely on One Ear

Peoria, Ill. (Special) — H. A. Lyons, who himself has been hard-of-hearing for over 25 years, today announced the perfection of a miniature electronic hearing aid that is so small it is worn on one ear.

It weighs but a fraction of an ounce and can be slipped on and off easier than a pair of eye glasses. Wearer gets all-directional pick-up and normal use of telephone. There is no clothing interference because it is worn at the ear, which is the natural way to hear.

Since the aid is tiny and is worn tucked behind the ear, it is practically invisible. Mr. Lyons stated that, although it is powerful enough to fit the most severe hearing loss, it can also be adjusted for the millions of slightly hard-of-hearing who feel they are not deaf enough to bother with the more cumbersome aids.

It is suggested, if interested for yourself or a friend, to write to Tonemaster Manufacturing Company, 128 South Monroe Street, Dept. B-1, Peoria, Illinois, and he will be glad to send information at no cost or obligation to you.—Adv.

Homemaker Is Actually Independent Operator

SHE thinks housekeeping is such a dull existence that she has taken a job as a stenographer in a large office.

Rain or shine she leaves her home at eight every morning but Sunday in order to be at her desk by 8:30.

She gets a coffee break at 10 and scurries downstairs to eat lunch at 12. All the rest of the time she sits at a desk typing letter after letter and filling out one long form after another.

Her job isn't more routine than most jobs that bored housewives can go out and get. It's about par for the course.

How can a woman figure that such jobs are more varied, or interesting, or more exciting than housework?

A housewife is a free and independent operator all day long. If she doesn't feel like washing on Monday she can put it off until Tuesday. If she feels especially ambitious on Wednesday she can pitch in and do such a thorough cleaning job that she can skim through her housework for the next few days.

If she wants to join a neighborhood coffee break she can. If she wants to get busy cutting out a dress she can hurry up her chores and get at her sewing.

If it is a beautiful day she can interrupt her housework to wander out in the yard to look at her flowers or trim a few shrubs.

OFFICE IS TREADMILL

EVEN while her hands are busy doing routine jobs, her mind can roam free and clear, mentally redoing the living room, planning her wardrobe, mulling over a problem on Wednesday.

No two days are ever alike, especially if she has even one preschooler still at home. All day long she is her own boss, running her own home the way she chooses to run it.

How can any woman think she is escaping routine when she trades full-time homemaking for an office job? Isn't she actually running away from freedom to hop on a treadmill?

Jim Eldridge Displays Rare Talent in Recital

James Eldridge, 15 year old boy soprano and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eldridge, sang a difficult program for his junior voice recital at Warren Conservatory of Music last Saturday evening.

Jim is blessed with a strong and beautiful high soprano voice, which he uses with considerable skill. His program opened with religious selections, and his second group was German lieder, displaying fine diction in that language.

Highlight of the evening was his singing of "The Wren", a charming song for coloratura soprano. Here he demonstrated a voice of fine flexibility, doing the difficult cadenzas with accuracy, and pleasing the audience with his effortless high C's.

The final group found the young singer in a casual mood, with favorite show tunes which both he and the audience seemed to enjoy.

Young Murray Foreman, talented pianist and pupil of Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, was assisting student. This young Canadian lad is already displaying a wealth of talent, and great speed on the keyboard. Most outstanding was his "Madriena" by Leucoma, which elicited much applause.

Miss Adelaide Swanson provided piano accompaniment for the vocalist in her usual fine style.

"THE FIRST STEP TOWARD A CURE IS TO KNOW WHAT THE DISEASE IS"

—Author's Name Below—

Research scientists have now perfected some chemical reagents that enable physicians to make a positive diagnosis of certain diseases. Often the cause of a sickness still has to be determined by skillfully eliminating what it cannot be. Sometimes more than one visit is necessary to accomplish this.

To impatiently rush from one physician to another is unwise. You can usually get well much more quickly if after choosing your physician, you give him the necessary time to find out what is wrong, so that he can help you most.

Baby's 'Open Look' Asks Us To Define the World to Him

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

IF you are a noticing person, some day soon you'll see an expression come into your baby's face which I'm going to call the "open look."

Maybe you'll just have nursed, burped him, put him in his crib. For a moment or so he'll lie there sleeping in content. Then suddenly he'll hiccup. It will be his first hiccup. In a flash of time so swiftly gone you'll wonder if you imagined it, you'll see the open look—a look of purest blankness untouched even by surprise.

It will be the expression of your baby's uncorrupted innocence. It will say to you, "What is this strange thing that just happened to me? Is this hiccup good and safe or is it bad and dangerous? How am I supposed to feel about it?"

He's begun to ask you to define the world to him.

WITH the open look, he'll often be asking you to define it from here on. It will appear on his face when he bumps his head for the first time, drops his spoon, hears a raised and angry voice. How you respond to it will have measureless influence on his trust of all future experiences.

In a just-published book called "Childhood and Adolescence" by teaching psychologists L. Joseph Stone and Joseph Church, I find these words:

"The baby's experience of himself and of objects is shaped to large extent by what his parents communicate to him about it. According to their signals, things are exciting, disgusting, mysterious, alarming, pleasant and so forth. Sometimes when a baby is bumped on the head, he doesn't even know that his head hurts until he sees, hears and feels his parents' worry."

THESE are important words for new mothers.

As babies ourselves, our mothers answered our open look with anxiety. So we'll feel it too when our baby falls out of his crib and bumps his head. We'll put the idea of danger into his still uncorrupted consciousness out of our own fear of it.

But if we become aware of the appeal of his open look, we can easily resist the impulse to rush to him with panicky cries of "Oh, my goodness, what have you done to yourself?"

Awareness of our measureless power to make or break his trust of experience helps to control our own inherited fear of it with love.

Fund-Raising Dance Tonight For the Spot

Last regularly-planned activity to be held at The Spot this summer will take place this evening, when the Adult Steering Committee of the Youth Canteen plays host to a rockem-sockem Rock-n-Roll dance featuring Junie Schneck and his Rhythmaires. Dancing will start at 8:30 p. m.

John Stachowiak, program director for The Spot, predicts another overflow crowd. This is a fund-raising dance for the Canteen and is another indication the young people of Warren are not sitting back and waiting for handouts from their parents or the community.

Further convincing evidence of youth participation in The Spot Fund-Raising Campaign is manifest in the teams of students who have gone out to meet industrial leaders in this area and, without fail, were well received and came away with substantial pledges.

Chairman of the campaign, Bill Lundahl, announces about one-third of the goal of $10,000 has been reached and the response to solicitations has been very good. Many civic and service organizations are following in the footsteps of Kiwanis and making pledges.

Checks should go to Warren Recreation Board, P.O. Box 112. It is more than a worthy cause... it's a necessity. "As you bend the tree, so it shall grow."

Public Invited to Inspection of Soap Box Derby Racers

A large group of boys who are entered in the Second Annual Warren County Soap Box Derby to be staged on Central avenue Saturday afternoon, June 29th, had their racers at Beatty Junior High School last evening for inspection, which started officially Saturday June 15th.

The committee in charge reminds that each entrant has been assigned a day and time when he is to report to Beatty with his racer for inspection. Derby Director Harland and Inspection Committee Chairman Will Wakely request that each boy make every effort to report on time so that the committee will be able to spend as much time as necessary with each entrant to correct any errors in construction that may be found.

The interest shown by the people of Warren county, for this annual event has been great and the three Sponsors, Dan's Chevrolet, Warren Times-Mirror and the Warren Jay Cees wish to express their appreciation in behalf of the boys who have worked long and hard to build a racer that they hope will win for them a local award and a possible crack at the jackpot in Akron. Persons interested in watching the inspections are invited to Beatty Wednesday or Friday evening of this week and any evening next week.

At the completion of their inspection the racer will be kept by the Jay Cee Derby Committee until the day of the race, June 29th. The drivers will be given an opportunity to recheck their racers prior to the race in order to take care of any last minute adjustments.

Public inspection of the racers will be Friday June 28th at seven p. m., Beatty Junior High School Gym.

Mass Resignations From Benzinger Twp. Board

St. Mary's (AP)—Five members of the Benzinger Twp. school board and the township secretary resigned en masse today because of what they called "constant fire" since denying parochial students private bus transportation.

Bus transportation was suspended for the 400 parochial students April 1. The board said the suspension was the only course possible under the school code which does not permit the use of tax money for hauling private school students.

Those resigning were Mrs. Elizabeth Simons, school board president, William Miller, Ben Kreller, Amos Pantzer, Walter A. Schaut and Mrs. Betty Roth, township secretary.

The Elk County Common Pleas Court will appoint new members to the board.

After 27 Years' Reporting—

She's Handling GOP Public Relations

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If the GOP thinks it's getting a trill, giggling dame as its new public relations consultant, it's in for some surprises.

Ruth Cowan Nash, who was appointed to the post to take on some of the duties recently dropped by Mrs. Anne Wheaton, newly appointed assistant White House press secretary, is a reporter's reporter.

In her 27 years working for a wire service, Mrs. Nash proved that she was as tough as they come and that she could cover any story a man could cover. She made a name for herself in Chicago covering crime stories during the Al Capone era and was the first woman accredited as a war correspondent in Europe during World War II.

WORLD WAR II FRIENDS remember her as the woman who demonstrated "How to Stay a Bleach-Head on a Beach-Head." She carried 12 bottles of bleach with her overseas and kept her tresses shiny throughout the war.

Reporters at the Pentagon, after the war, remember her as a charming lady and a top reporter. One old Washington hand says: "Ruth never used her femininity to get a story, but she got the beat on us many times."

The new public relations consultant "married" into the GOP. Strictly nonpartisan during her years as a reporter, she became a Republican last June when she retired to wed Deputy Undersecretary of Commerce Bradley Nash.

ALTHOUGH REARED in the usually Democratic state of

A reporter's reporter is Ruth Cowan Nash, shown in the midst of her duties as new GOP public relations consultant. She covered crime and war during more than a quarter century with a wire service.

Texas, Mrs. Nash says she has never registered to vote in any state and has never claimed any political affiliation. And since her marriage, she says, "there just isn't room for two schools of thought on politics in one family."

Born in Salt Lake City, Utah, she later lived in Homestead, Fla. She attended the University of Texas, graduating as a political science major. Her journalistic ambitions were born the day she found out reporters got free passes to the movies. She is a former president of the Women's National Press Club.

The Nashes live in a renovated old white farmhouse on a hill top at Harpers Ferry, Va. She is a talented cook and enjoys preparing special dishes, but, like many housewives, hates washing the dishes. This job she leaves to her politico husband.

Youngsville Bible School Exercises Mark Term Closing

Youngsville—Local Vacation Bible Schools held concluding exercises Friday evening, each department participating in the program, work displayed for the audiences, and awards presented.

The EUB-Methodist school presented Bible verses, songs and an activities quiz, with certificates presented to nearly 80 children by the directors, Mrs. Clifford Abbey and Mrs. Edward Turchan.

Saron Lutheran-St. Francis Episcopal director, Mrs. Forrest Rapp, presented 69 certificates at her closing program. Exercises followed the form of worship services observed daily during the school and illustrated work done.

Primary children answered a quiz on work, followed by questions and answers on Noah's Ark, and ending with a flannelgraph explanation by Milton Johnson, one of their number.

Junior-Senior group explained the theme of the school, "Jesus, the Saviour," and their handicraft. As an illustration of their lessons, they chose the one they liked the best, "The Raising of Lazarus," which they presented in the form of a play.

Handicraft was on display: a Palestine village; an African village, to illustrate one of their missionary stories; and almost every conceivable kind of boat, to mention just several things.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carr had as house guests last week Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carr and children, from Allen, Pa., and Mrs. Annie Stern, of Harbor-de-Grace, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Littlefield and Susan Littlefield returned Saturday night from Virginia Beach. Highlight of their week's trip was the Naval Review at Hampton Roads, Va.

Blue Circle was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mildred Jones with 13 members and one guest present. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Maye Hooven was in charge, and led the devotions. A picnic was planned at 1:00 p. m. July 24 at Wilder Field. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Night Club Brawl Lands Billy Martin With Kansas City A's

By ED CORRIGAN
New York (AP)—It's only about 30 miles from New York to Washington, a four-hour train ride. Billy Martin is going to take the ride today. It will be the longest of his life.
Martin was dealt from the New York Yankees to the Kansas City A's Saturday night. He played for the A's Sunday, but then flew back to New York with his old mates to close up his personal affairs.
Tonight, he joins the A's for good in their game with the Washington Senators.
Always a pet of Yanks Manager Casey Stengel, Case, once called him the "assistant manager". Martin was upset at the thought of leaving, but he admitted he could see the handwriting on the wall after the now-famous night club brawl in which he was involved.
"It's strange wearing another uniform," he said. "I never wore any other but the Yanks. I've been with Stengel 10 years.

"Casey gave me to understand he didn't want to let me go, and I even heard that he tried to stop the deal at the last minute."
"Still, I knew it was coming. There was all that talk for the past couple of weeks. Then I found myself on the bench. I really knew my number was up during Saturday night's game. They needed a third baseman and used Gerry Coleman instead of me."
"Then in the sixth inning, Case told me."
Martin said he didn't really feel bad when Stengel told him.
"It's hard to describe," he continued soberly. "I guess I didn't feel anything. But when I went around shaking hands with the guys, it was tough."
The Yankees said they'd refund the $1,000 fine levied against him for the night club incident, and that they would pay him $600 travel money.
"So," he laughed hollowly, "I pick up $1,600 and lose $7,000."
He was referring to the expected cut of the World Series swag.

CURLS AND CURVES — Mary Ann Eisel is the first girl ever to play with boys in the 44-year-old history of St. Louis Municipal Baseball Association. The 10-year-old carried at shortstop last season, switched to pitching when club's mound staff needed help.

Pirate Win Trims Braves' Lead To But Single Game

Milwaukee (AP) — The seventh place Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for runs in the ninth inning last night to nip the league leading Milwaukee Braves 7-5. The victory trimmed the Braves lead to one game.

Gene Freese led the Pirate attack with two doubles and two singles. Gene Baker hit a one-run homer in the sixth for the first Pirate home run since June 1.

Bob Purkey, the fourth of five Pirate pitchers, received credit for the victory. He now has a 6-4 record. Dave Jolly, the second of three Milwaukee hurlers, was charged with the loss, his first compared to no victories.

The Braves out-hit the Pirates 17 to 10 with Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee's new second baseman, collecting two doubles and two singles in five times at bat. Andy Pafko, Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan got three hits each.

The Pirates' ninth inning rally got under way with one out when Freese hit a double and scored on Ramon Mejias' single to knot the score at 4-4. Three more runs came across on a squeeze bunt by Hank Foiles, a triple by Bob Skinner and a squeeze bunt by Paul Smith.

The game was a playoff of a rained-out contest.

Martinez Scores Second Win Over Former Champion

By MURRAY ROSE
Jersey City, N. J. (AP)—Vince Martinez had his second straight victory over ex-welterweight champion Kid Gavilan today and a sharper desire to joust with the current ruler, Carmen Basilio, in September.

He'll probably have to settle for an outdoor fight in Newark, N. J., in August against either Peter Waterman, British 147-pound title, or Ralph Dupas of New Orleans.

"That $150,000 offer to Basilio for a title shot in Ruppert Stadium in Newark still goes," said Billy Daly, Martinez's manager, after his meal ticket whacked out a 10-round decision over Gavilan last night.

Carmen said he has set a Monday deadline for Sugar Ray Robinson to sign for a fight with him in September.

"No more fights for me in New Jersey," waived Gavilan, loser of five straight and headed for the end of the trail.

The Kid, now 31 and with 14 years of pro battling behind, did hurt Martinez in the fifth and seventh, especially in the fifth. But he was shaken on a couple of occasions himself and was generally outclassed by the counter-punching, backpedaling Martinez. Gavilan weighed 147 1/2, Martinez 150 1/2.

FILLS THE GAP

Midtown Driver Places His Fast Ford in Very Stiff Competition

Driving his first race on the slick asphalt tracks of Toronto, Canada, and Buffalo, N. Y., Fredie Knapp of Jamestown piloted Midtown Motors fast racing Ford to "front line" positions against a field of crack international drivers over the past weekend.

Knapp's first attempt on the asphalt came Friday night at Toronto when he drove a 100-lap feature to finish in sixth place. Saturday night, Knapp and his pit crew moved down to Buffalo where on the Buffalo Civic Stadium track they improved their finishing position to a "fifth."

The local driver's stiff competition at both Toronto and Buffalo came from the same combination of top-flight stock-car drivers as these professionals "travel the circuits." Among those giving him the most trouble were: Haas Kagle, one-time Indianapolis driver, Jim Reed, four time short track champion, and Ralph Moody, a famed hot-shot of the southern circuits.

Knapp will again move into "circuit" competition this coming weekend when he appears with the Midtown Ford on the half-mile oval at Trenton, N. J.

Kid Southpaw May Be Solution To Dodgers' Pitching Troubles

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Brooklyn's pitcher staff, trouble free just a couple of weeks ago but a battered bunch of late may have found an added starter in Danny McDevitt—a kid southpaw who couldn't make the grade in Class A ball a year ago.

The Dodgers, who skidded from the National League lead to fifth place while winning only two of their last 10 games, threw the 24-year-old lefty against Cincinnati last night and came off with a 7-2 victory as they started their second Western invasion of the season.

McDevitt, fresh from St. Paul, struck out 11 and spaced seven hits.

The victory pushed the Brooks up to fourth while the Redlegs slipped from third to fifth as the perplexing Pittsburgh Pirates defeated first-place Milwaukee 7-5 with four ninth-inning runs in the only other game scheduled in the majors.

Milwaukee now has but a single game lead over St. Louis, with Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Cincinnati all two games back. There's a two percentage point gap between the Phils and Dodgers, and the Dodgers and the Redlegs.

McDevitt, a 5-11, 175-pounder born in New York but now a Greenwood, Mass., resident, started out with Macon in the Sally League last season, but was sent down to Cedar Rapids of the Class B Three-I League with a 14 record and a 7.46 earned run average. At Cedar Rapids he was 5-8, with a 3.53 ERA. He had 127 strikeouts for the year, but walked 135.

This year he has 6-4, striking out 73 in 87 innings. He had a 1.86 ERA at St. Paul of the American Assn. He was called up last weekend.

The Dodgers tagged Johnny Klippstein for three runs in the second inning, opened by Gino Cimoli's home run and capped by McDevitt's squeeze bunt. Brooks Lawrence, fourth Redleg pitcher, was touched for three runs in the ninth as Cincinnati continued its skid with a 12th defeat in the last 16 games.

Gene Freese was 4-for-4 for the Pirates and scored the tying run after socking his second double to get the ninth-inning rally under way against losing reliever Dave Jolly. The Bucs, out hit 17-10, pulled two squeeze bunts in the frame.

Gene Baker homered for the Pirates, their first since June 1. Bob Purkey won it in relief.

Hershey (AP)—Skee Riegel battled the heat and worried about four deadlocked pursuers on his way to the 41st annual Pennsylvania Open Golf Championship.

Riegel, 42-year-old Philadelphia pro, wound up with a two-stroke victory of 145 over four who tied for second place. The heat forced 75 competitors out of the tournament.

In the four-way tie for runnerup honors at 147 were Stan Dudas of North Hills Country Club, Philadelphia; Andy Stofko, Colonial Country Club, Harrisburg; Lew Worsham, Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburgh; and Art Barni, Pitts-

Barni won the low amateur honors in a sudden death playoff with Stofko, sinking a one-under-par four on the first hole.

Riegel, who last came closest to the winner's circle as runnerup in the 1951 Masters tournament, picked up first prize money of $1,000.

Worsham and Dudas both picked up $400 for their second place finish among the professionals.

The name of Paraguay is derived from the Indian words, "paragua" meaning Crown of Palms, and "ti" meaning river, or "River Crowned With Palms".

HAPPY HUNTING GROUND—A shopping center in Minneapolis, Minn., seems an odd place to encounter a traditional cigar-store Indian. The advertising symbol from the age of hitching posts and high button shoes is standing in a very modern setting. The double-decker center has a variety of shops around a garden court decorated with massive mobiles.

BRAND NEW—Butcher-boy blue stripes and the briefest of hip bands combine to make this snappy beach shirt that British starlet June Lavenick introduced at the recent Cannes Film Festival. June had just finished work on "It Happened in Rome."

NO COMFORT THERE—When wee Joseph Ramagge, of Linea, Spain, arrived in New York on the liner Giulio Cesare, he tried to get some companionship from pet birds while his parents went through customs. But the birds weren't talking and this was the tearful result of their silence.

HOME GROWN—Ralph Edwards, star of TV's "This Is Your Life," show, has an easy time of it when he wants to pick oranges in his backyard in Beverly Hills, Calif. A special picker takes fruit from a tree and drops it into the fabric bag, so it's no trouble at all for Ralph.

FOR SWEET CHARITY—Why else would these Italian soldiers be dressed in 17th Century costumes in Rome? They were part of the historic flashback in the Borghese Gardens and they are bowing in the traditional manner that goes with their outfits. The white-wigged soldiers beside them are showing how grenadiers were dressed a century later.

TURNABOUT—That's fair play, according to six-year-old Maureen Rossi, who's sharing her ice cream with King, her pet colie in New York. The day was warm and Maureen had an idea that some ice cream would help make things a bit cooler for them both.

IN THE SHADE—There's more than one way to beat the heat and park a car at the same time. A clever driver has backed his little auto into the shade of a trailer truck in Boulder, Colo. Of course, that shade is going to move away, but perhaps the car will, too.

A WEE ONE—A baby red fox was one of six that were found in a hollow log nest after their mother was killed by a farmer near Wausau, Wis. Damage to Wisconsin farms has resulted in a bounty being placed on these animals.

LOOK AT A LOCK—Work on the giant Eisenhower Lock of the St. Lawrence Power and Seaway Development is in full swing in Massena, N. Y. When finished, waters of the St. Lawrence River will be channeled into it and the new canal will parallel the U.S. shore. Scheduled for completion in 1959, the lock will be able to handle 80 per cent of the world's ships.

ON THE SQUARE—Career girl and co-ed greet summer geometrically in this blouse which is cleverly patterned with hemsitching. The rayon linen fabric, stitched mostly in squares, is turned about into an attractive fringed triangle for the collar to add an unusual touch to it.

SHOW STEALER—A trim little craft is the SM-1, a Polish-made helicopter that ought to be an outstanding attraction at the French aeronautical exhibition at Le Bourget. Built under a Russian license at a factory in Swidnik, Poland, the white-topped whirlybird features a 525 horsepower motor and seating space for up to five passengers.

Farmers Urged To Note Conservation Reserve Contract

A caution signal regarding "permitted acreage" was sounded today by N. E. Dodd, chairman, Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, for all farmers who have signed Conservation Reserve contracts. The Chairman reminds farmers not to use more land for the production of Soil Bank base crops than is specified in their contracts.

Adding to Mr. Dodd, the "acreage permitted for harvest" is the Soil Bank base for the farm less the acreage put in the Conservation Reserve.

"A Soil Bank base is established for every farm that is under a Conservation Reserve contract," the Chairman explained. "The base is set up to insure that a producer does not put land in the Conservation Reserve and then undo the crop-producing purpose of the contract by shifting land from soil-conserving or idle uses to crop production."

The Soil Bank base for a farm is the amount of acreage on the farm customarily devoted to the production of Soil Bank base crops—grain, row crops, and vegetables (except kitchen gardens), potatoes, and other crops. To devote an acreage to these crops in excess of the "permitted acreage" would be in violation of the Conservation Reserve contract and subject the farmer operator to the forfeiture of payments and possible other penalties.

Mr. Dodd asked all farmers who are in doubt about their "acreage permitted for harvest" or any other points in their Conservation Reserve contracts to phone, write, or call at the County ASC office for further information.
